

More Fun With Appositives!!

Name: _____

Combine the following choppy sentences using appositives:

Example: Carolo is the new wrestling champion.
 He is also a native of Argentina.

Write these sentences with an appositive at the beginning of the sentence.

1. A native of Argentina, Carlo is the new wrestling champion. OR
Carolo, the new wrestling champion, is a native of Argentina.

2. My uncle taught me to use watercolors.
He is a well-known artist.

3. Don made baked fish with coconut for the party.
He is a fine cook.

4. Acupuncture is becoming more popular in the U.S.
It is an ancient Chinese healing system.

5. The Comwell Hotel was built in 1806.
It is an elegant example of Mexican architecture.

Write these sentences with an appositive in the middle of the sentence.

6. His black literature course is always popular with students.
It is an introductory survey

7. The Korean ping-pong champion won ten games in a row.
She is a small and wiry athlete.

8. The pituitary is located below the brain.
It is the body's master gland.

9. The elevator shudders violently and begins to rise.
It is an ancient box of wood and hope.

Write the following sentences with an appositive at the end of the sentence.

10. I hate fried asparagus.
It is a vile dish.

11. Jennifer flaunted her new camera.
It was a Nikon with a telephoto lens.

12. At the intersection stood a hitchhiker.
He was a young man dressed in a tuxedo.

13. We met for pancakes at the Cosmic Cafe.
It was a greasy diner on the corner of 10th and Vine.