“To reach the top, we stand on the books we have read.”
- Unknown
Help a Reluctant Reader Find Books They Love!

1. Look for things they might like to read. Interests or hobbies are a great place to start.

2. Take children to the library regularly. Explore the children’s book section and don’t hesitate to ask the librarians for book suggestions! (We love to find the perfect book for you!)

3. Let your children see you reading for pleasure on a regular basis.

4. Take note of what catches your child’s attention, be it a picture, television show, or music. Find a book with similar subject matter that they might enjoy.

5. Encourage older children to read to younger brothers and sisters.

Having a hard time picking out a book?

Finished a favorite series and looking for something new? Check out our read-alikes binder & website, where you can browse for great book recommendations based on the titles you already know and love.

Children’s Department
211 S. Allen Street,
State College
814-235-7817
schlowlibrary.org

6/2014